

THE FOURTH ANNUAL Cabriolet Charity Fashion Gala had Vancouver's society scene abuzz Friday. Amber Webster and host/auto dealer Brian Jessel.

LEO AWARDS ceremony at the Westin Bayshore. Pictured are The Guard actor Steve Bacic and Phantom Racer director Terry Ingram.

SATURDAY had the idol coming alive among JetSet Crew guests Denyc and Rebecca Safford. All part of the fun at the House of Buddha shindig at Canvas Lounge.

RED CROSS volunteers Alex Cubitt, Lindsay Thom, Maki Morriss, Erin Treloar and Kathryn Peck celebrated the 100-year anniversary of the Canadian Red Cross at the sold out Red Carpet Soiree at Blue Water café in Yaletown last week.

ET CANADA'S Erin Cebula and Arc 2 Intertainment's Andy Chu helped make this year's Leo Awards red carpet and gala awards ceremony a success. Visit www.leoawards.com for this year's winners.

More pics online at vancouver.24hrs.ca/onthetown

feedback

■ IS GORDON Campbell this arrogant? Premier Gordon Campbell apparently tossed a loonie to a striking ambulance paramedic and told him: "Here, don't spend it all in one place." The unidentified paramedic answered: "Thanks a lot, that's half an hour's pay for me." BC Ambulance Paramedics get (approx.) only $2/hr for on-call standby.
- Sharon Schick, via e-mail

■ THE PEOPLE of B.C. have been invited (again) to vote on one of the most important political issues of our time. A new format of voting that would reshape the face of government as we know it. The Single Transferable Vote system would better represent the popular vote for the citizens of B.C., provide a more balanced and accountable government that would be less party driven and more likely to work together to reach solutions that satisfy the majority of the population. This system would likely produce more minority governments, take the power away from single-party governance, and fill the parliament seats with MLAs that will need to put the best interest of their constituents ahead of self-serving political party views or needs. I invite everyone to educate themselves on STV before heading to the voting booths. Don't let "fear-based" anti-STV advertisements fool you. If you want more say, power and influence in your government, vote yes on STV and take the power away from the political parties. Let's finally make politicians accountable to us - the voters!
- Jeff Leggat, Burnaby

■ REGARDING THE STORY of the 12-year-old Coquitlam girl who was assaulted. Why was it necessary to report that the house she may live in is in ill-repair and that toys are strewn about on the lawn? This is blatant disregard for victim privacy and of no relevance. It's horrific that a young girl was assaulted. The state of repair of her home is irrelevant and insulting.
A. Watson, via e-mail

van24feedback@sunmedia.ca

Good swag up for grabs

Last week Vancouver.24hrs.ca photo gallery surfer Colene Chow proved she knew her Vancouver entertainment scene by correctly identifying six of the 10 mystery locations.

- They were as follows:
1. CinCin Restaurant
 2. Granville Island Kid's Market
 3. Ceili's Irish Pub
 4. The Roxy
 5. The Penthouse
 6. Raw Canvas
 7. Glowbal Grill & Satay Bar
 8. Opus Hotel Bar

ON THE TOWN
MICHAEL SCHRATTER

mschratter@gmail.com
twitter.com/Michael24hrs

9. Deuce Bungalow
10. Section 3
Every Monday there will be 10 mystery photos of well-known Vancouver establishments.

The first reader to identify the most locations depicted in the photographs will be entered into a draw at the end of May for a chance to win a $200 multi-course chef's tasting menu for two at South Granville's West Restaurant & Bar (www.westrestaurant.com) as well as a copy of West: The Cookbook.

The runner-up receives a copy of the cookbook.

Visit www.vancouver.24hrs.ca/mystery and play

E-mail your answers to mschratter@gmail.com

CANADIAN HEALTH CARE ACADEMY

Info Session
Tuesday, May 12, 6-8 pm

604.540.2421 • www.chcabc.com
93 Sixth St., New Westminster BC, V3L 2Z8

- Resident Care Attendant
- Practical Nursing
- Access to Practical Nursing
- Nursing Unit Clerk